

Historic, Archive Document

Do not assume content reflects current scientific knowledge, policies, or practices.

Resume
A41.9
R317C

CA 1-7

November 1959

STEPS

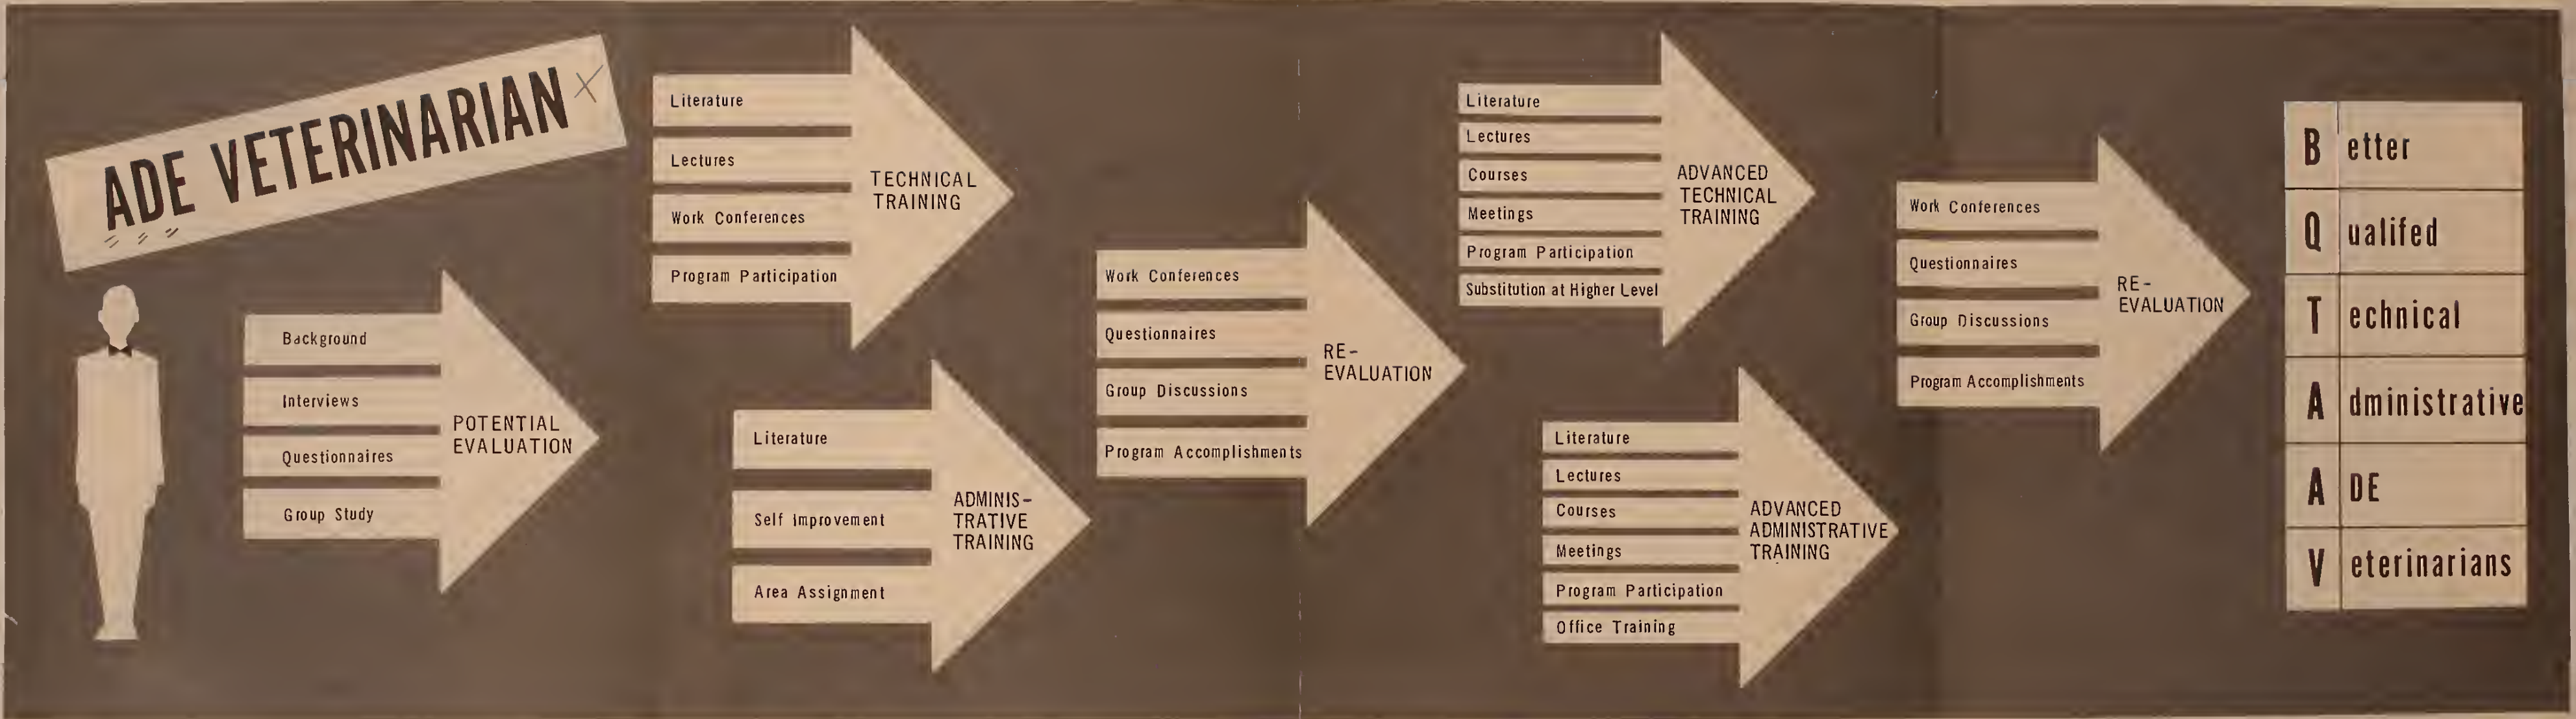

TOWARD

DEVELOPMENT OF

The quality of service provided by the Animal Disease Eradication
Division, in the FUTURE depends on the development of our personnel, NOW.

R. J. Anderson
Director

ANIMAL DISEASE ERADICATION DIVISION
Agricultural Research Service
United States Department of Agriculture

Every veterinarian in our organization should be aware that there is a training program for his development both from a professional and management standpoint.

Professionolly he can develop into an epidemiologist or an authority on communicable diseases of animals.

Administrotively he can develop into a manager through training in personnel administration, public relations, communications, budgets, public speaking, procurement, and program direction.

THE EXTENT OF HIS GROWTH DEPENDS ON THE INDIVIDUAL.

B	etter
Q	ualified
T	echnical
A	dministrative
A	DE
V	eterinarians